1. A more traditional experimental (quantitative) approach, which sees social reality as a set of facts to be known for all time by measuring people in the laboratory; 2. A more critical, discursive (qualitative) approach, which sees social reality as mutually constructed between people in the real world.”.

lessons from each one.

This is because social
research is a craft skill, relatively autonomous
from the need to resolve philosophical disputes.
